
BAR ROCHFORD

Bar Rochford acknowledges the Ngunnawal people, the traditional custodians of the Canberra region, and recognises their continuous connection to culture, community and country. We pay respects to their elders, past, present and emerging.

Welcome to it.

MARINE GIRLS

A PLACE IN THE SUN / LAZY WAYS (1983)

Imagine A Sunny Holiday,
A Little Paris Style Cafe,
Corner Table For Two,
And That Is Me And You.

Barefoot By The Shore,
A Drink With Ice And Two Straws,
Sun In The Cloudless Sky,
You Wave As The Girls Go By.

Take A Boat Out For A While,
You Row And I Lie Back In Style,
We'll Reach The Other Side, You Say,
But We Never Get Halfway.

When The Evening Comes Around,
We'll Stroll Through A Lamp-lit Little Town,
Miles and Miles From Home,
Happy To Be On Our Own.

Nothing I Would Rather Do,
All I Want Is A Place In The Sun And You,
Nothing I Would Rather Do,
All I Want Is A Place In The Sun,
And You.

Lyrics: Tracey Thorn

Chablis

Couple of Chardonnays and see what happens? It's a good start to any situation really. The mineral driven whites of Chablis are the favourite of suits, sommeliers and chalkers all around the globe. Our focus here... Chardonnay from cult Chablis producers, who surround themselves in tradition whilst balancing the art of clean organic principles.

Whether it's Petit Chablis for the workmates, Chablis for the graduation, Premier Cru Chablis to impress the father in law or a Grand Cru Chablis for the divorce, we've saved some for every occasion. Enjoy chalk-talk like never before.

Jura Whites

The region of humble farmers, rolling hills, Comté and the signature red fox. Some say the birthplace of 'Natural Wine' but we're pretty sure these vignerons simply make wine the way they want without giving two cents to their northern neighbours in Burgundy and surrounds. Whether in classic mode, experimental or oxidised, Jura wines are something to talk about. Some never make wine lists, and we're proud to have a gang of organic producers to share with you at our meeting place.

L'Anglore - Southern Rhône FRA

The Lizard Wizard. It's safe to say that these wines changed our thinking on Rosé forever. Eric Pfifferling was born with a golden tongue, producing exceptionally unique wines using the old varietals of Cinsault, Carignan & Grenache from the deep dry earth of Tavel & Lirac. Organically farmed liquid lazer beams.

Lizard season is generally short, especially in this place.
Provence is yours, Tavel is mine.

This is our current collection on offer:

Beaujolais

Located to the north of Lyon in eastern France, the picturesque Beaujolais vineyards run along the Saône River, where winemakers have crafted delicious, supple and fruity wines since the days of Ancient Rome. The generous sunlight exposure and largely granite soils provide ideal growing conditions to showcase wines with excellent structure and brilliant expression. We've got our hands on a few of our favourites from some of the most prominent Beaujolais Crus to showcase one of our favourite varietals of all time... Gamay.

Magnums

The Magnum was collaboratively developed over a period in the early to mid-1930s by a group of individuals in a direct response to Colt's .38 Super Automatic. At the time, the .38 Super was the only American pistol cartridge capable of defeating automobile cover and the early ballistic vests that were just beginning to emerge in the post-World War I "Gangster Era'.

Tests at the time revealed that those vests defeated any handgun bullet traveling less than about 1,000 feet per second (300 metres per second). The .357 Magnum just edged over that velocity and was able to penetrate car doors and vests that bootleggers and gangsters were employing as cover.

Be the .1500 gangster, blow the door right off.
