Pierre-Yves Colin-Morey Selections

The latest in a long line of Burgundy producers, Pierre Yves Colin-Morey is intimately familiar with the vineyards and growers of the region. These relationships allow him to select the absolute best crop portions from his preferred sites each year. Colin-Morey is strict about quality and his standards are very high; if he feels that a particular wine, once fermented, is not of an acceptable caliber, he will sell it off in bulk rather than see it through bottling. The wines see no batonnage at all during their 15 -18 month elevage period, and they are coveted by enthusiasts and collectors around the world.

Château Rayas Selections

Château Rayas is a leading producer in the Châteauneuf-du-Pape appellation of the Rhône Valley.

Much about Rayas is unusual. Firstly, the estate's red wine is made solely from Grenache, unlike most Châteauneuf-du-Pape wines that typically contain Syrah, Mourvèdre and a range of other varieties. Secondly, the 13 hectares (32 acres) of vineyards face north, and do not have any galets roulés, the rounded stones so closely associated with the appellation. Thirdly, the estate's wines are matured in rare double-pièce 450-liter barrels.

Michel Gahier Selections

The Gahier family has been resident in the Jura since 1525.

Michel Gahier has learned from the best. Gahier is a neighbor and friend of Jacques Puffeney, both living in Montigny-les-Arsures, a Viticultural district that is acknowledged to produce some of the finest wines of the Arbois appellation.

The Viticulture is organic. The wines, both white and red, are aged in old foudres and barrel. The wines are bottled without filtration.

Simon Colin Selections

Simon Colin, son of Philippe Colin and nephew of Bruno Colin, started his career as a winemaker under the training of his uncle Bruno. He started his own business in 2017 at the young age of 24, producing his own wines in the commune of Chassagne-Montrachet. He is always aware of the global challenges related to wine, such as the ever-changing climate, and is particularly inspired by organic and biodynamic farming, applying thoughtful and effective winemaking and vineyard management processes to obtain the relevant certification in 2024.

Jean Claude Ramonet Selections

Domaine Ramonet is a renowned wine producer based in Chassagne-Montrachet, Burgundy. It began acquiring land on the Montrachet hillside in the 1930s. It initially acquired 1.5 hectares of Premier Cru Les Ruchottes, and over the years acquired and owned Grand Cru and Premier Cru vineyards, before acquiring part of the 'Le Montrachet' vineyard in the 1970s.

Jean-Claude Ramonet's winemaking philosophy relies on maintaining old vines and low yields. Vines under 18 years old are not used in the higher-end wines or are demoted from Premier Cru to Village. After the traditional fermentation process, they are aged for a long time in Sur Lie, with less Batonnage than elsewhere. In red winemaking, Remontage and Delestage are also kept to a minimum to obtain soft tannins. Depending on the region, the proportion of new oak barrels increases during aging.

Pierre Girardin Selections

Pierre Girardin is the son of renowned winemaker Vincent Girardin. Instead of inheriting his vineyard, he has been producing wines independently since 2017 at the young age of 21, establishing himself as Burgundy's supernova winemaker.

He was so intrigued by Lieu-dits that he listed them on every label, thinking that terroir was the root of Burgundy wines and that the limestone in the Burgundian soil undoubtedly gave it its originality.

Avoiding excessive use of oak and valuing freshness, minerality and elegance, so he used a large 456L oak barrel specially ordered from Francois Freres.

Confuron-Cotetidot Selections

Vignerons since the seventeenth century, the Confuron family has always selected and propagated vines to ensure that their plant material produces the highest quality, and they even have a clone of Pinot Named after them –

‘Pinot Confuron’

The Confurons have always used whole-bunch fermentation, picking very late, which really is a necessity if the stems are to be properly ripe and not give green flavours to the wine.

It is the producer of the latest grape harvest in Bourgogne. It aims for a classic old school, has a perfect structure, and shows the terroir of each village well.

Trimbach Selections

The Trimbach family is a long-established, family-style wine production company that Jean Trimbach began producing wine in 1626 and continues the 12th family business.

They are considered a representative example of Alsace wine by creating the term Trimbach Style, increasing the wine's natural fresh acidity and aging potential without using oak for the purity of grapes.

The effort makes Trimbach the only French wine brand listed in all 27 Michelin three-star restaurants in France, considered to be dry-white's best. It is also one of the top 10 winners in the world for white wine by Decanter.
