

HARDY'S VERANDAH RESTAURANT

ADELAIDE HILLS • EST 1852

It is only fitting that we acknowledge that Hardy's Verandah Restaurant stands upon the land of the KAURNA People. We recognise and respect their cultural heritage, beliefs and relationship with the land. We acknowledge that they are of continuing importance to the Kaurna People living today. This area was shared with the Peramangk Nation who shared many creation stories and Lore regarding Mount Lofty and Mount Bonython.

WELCOME TO HARDY'S VERANDAH RESTAURANT

Tucked into the east-facing slopes of Mount Lofty, Hardy's Verandah Restaurant is home to a curated collection of fine wines. Our wine list celebrates the rich history of Australian winemaking, showcasing the evolution of grape varietals in the region and the diverse styles they inspire.

Founded by Arthur Hardy in 1852, Mount Lofty House was home to the first vineyards in the Adelaide Hills—then the highest in South Australia. By 1858, around seven acres were planted with Red Madeira, followed by Cabernet, Shiraz, and Riesling across an additional nine acres, with walnut trees scattered throughout. We honour this rich winemaking legacy by sharing our full collection, stored in ideal natural conditions beneath the restaurant in our newly recreated cellar.

We're passionate about all things local, with a special focus on South Australia's rich winemaking heritage. Thanks to its Mediterranean climate, fertile soils, and deep-rooted traditions, South Australia has become a leading wine region. Grape cultivation began in the 1830s with immigrant families, and the founding of the South Australian Company in 1836 spurred further growth—laying the foundation for iconic regions like the Barossa Valley, Clare Valley, and Adelaide Hills.

Our wine selection tells the story of winemaking in Australia, alongside a curated range of international wines for context and comparison. From the classic elegance of Bordeaux to the bold, fruit-driven styles of California, our list invites wine lovers to explore the diversity of global grape varietals and deepen their appreciation of Australian wine.

Join us at Hardy's Verandah Restaurant for a journey through Australia's winemaking history, as we honour the pioneers who shaped the wines we enjoy today. Our wine selection is thoughtfully paired with modern South Australian cuisine crafted by our kitchen team. This book is our way of celebrating the legacy of this land—reflecting on the past, embracing the present, and looking ahead to the future.

SPARKLING WINES

Australia has a rich history of sparkling wine, dating back to 1881 when the Victorian Champagne Company produced its first sparkling Burgundy. In 1893, Edmund Mazure began making sparkling Shiraz near Adelaide, and later, Colin Preece created iconic versions at Great Western in Victoria—styles winemakers still aim to replicate today. Sparkling wines gained popularity in the 1950s and have since evolved, with premium styles emerging from cool-climate, high-altitude regions. From sweet Moscatos and pét-nats to Prosecco styles, sparkling reds, and traditional-method wines, Australia now offers a wide and diverse range of sparkling wines.

Mount Lofty Estate is home to the highest vineyard in the Adelaide Hills, sitting 650 metres above sea level. In partnership with Xavier Bizot of Terre à Terre—bringing expertise from the Bollinger Champagne family—we carefully manage our vineyard and winemaking process. Each vintage reflects the season, and we're proud to present the 2021 release: a blend of 55% Pinot Noir and 45% Chardonnay, aged on lees for over two years. ‘The Estate’ is a limited-edition wine, available exclusively at Hardy’s Verandah Restaurant.

CHAMPAGNE

France's most iconic wine region—Champagne, long a symbol of celebration and luxury—is experiencing a revival. Once dominated by the large Champagne houses (Grandes Marques), the region is now seeing a surge of independent grower-producers. Instead of selling their grapes to the big names, these growers are crafting their own unique, terroir-driven Champagnes. Known as Grower Champagne, this movement brings fresh energy to tradition, blending modern thinking with deep regional roots.

A very classical representation of terroir is the work on Francis Egly. Very low yields, old vines, only great sites, perfectly ripe fruit, extended lees aging, very low or no dosage and no fining and/or filtration are all decisions taken because Egly believes that they allow his terroir to speak most clearly.

WHITE WINES

White wines were introduced to Australia after reds, with early plantings including regional favourites like Sémillon and Riesling, along with Marsanne and Pinot Blanc. These grapes arrived in 1833 as part of James Busby's collection. Since then, white wine in Australia has evolved into iconic styles such as Hunter Valley Sémillon, Clare Valley Riesling, and Adelaide Hills Chardonnay. Our white wine selection features both classic regional varietals and standout grapes, presented in a journey that highlights their style and origin.

MODERN AND TIMELESS: FIANO, GRÜNER VELTLINER AND PINOT GRIGIO

South Australia is a truly unique wine region, and the way we enjoy wine here reflects that. Surrounded by passionate and skilled winemakers, we've developed a strong appreciation for varietals like Fiano, Pinot Grigio, and Grüner Veltliner. Once traditional European grapes, these varieties are now thriving in the Adelaide Hills and becoming local favourites.

GRAPES OF MEDITERRANEAN ORIGIN

Wines from regions like the South of France, Italy, and Spain offer incredible versatility, and their styles have become increasingly popular in recent years. Varietals like Marsanne, Roussanne, Grenache Blanc, Picpoul, and Vermentino (Rolle) remain underrated, yet offer excellent value. These grapes also have a rich history—Tahbilk in Central Victoria has been working with Marsanne since the 1860s, using cuttings first planted in the Yarra Valley in the 1830s. The rise of these alternative varietals gained momentum in the late 20th century, influenced by European—especially Italian—migration, which helped shape the diverse Australian wine scene we know today.

SAUVIGNON BLANC, SÉMILLON AND BLENDS BEYOND

Sémillon arrived in Australia in 1832 with James Busby's vine collection and found a home in the warm, humid Hunter Valley. Early on, it was often mislabelled as Riesling, Hock, or even Chablis. Its true potential became clear when Maurice O'Shea planted the Lovedale Vineyard in 1946, helping Sémillon rise in popularity. In recent years, aged Sémillon, blends with Sauvignon Blanc, and sweet Botrytis styles have made it one of Australia's most exciting white wines.

Sauvignon Blanc has been in Australia since the 1800s, but its popularity took off in the 1990s. Inspired by the success of Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc in New Zealand, the Australian market saw rapid growth in demand.

THE CURIOUS CASE OF CHENIN BLANC

Chenin Blanc, known for producing some of the longest-lived wines, has been in Australia longer than many other white grapes. First planted in 1829 in Swan Valley using vines from South Africa—where it's the most widely grown variety—Chenin Blanc is now gaining attention for its high yields and versatility.

The grape's true home is France's Loire Valley, with over 1,000 years of history in regions like Vouvray, Anjou, and Montlouis, producing everything from dry wines to sweet, botrytis-affected styles. Our selection showcases pure, terroir-driven Chenin Blancs—from light and dry to rich and expressive styles.

RIESLING RENAISSANCE

Riesling was first brought to Australia by William Macarthur and planted at Camden Park in South Australia. Key figures like Johann Gramp (Barossa, 1847), Joseph Gilbert (Pewsey Vale, 1850), Alfred Basedow, Rudi Kronberger, and Colin Gramp played major roles in shaping its future—introducing innovations like cool-climate plantings and temperature-controlled fermentation.

As fine table wine evolved in Australia, Riesling gained popularity. However, during the 1960s and 1970s, many sweet wines were falsely labelled as Riesling, which impacted its reputation. By the 1980s, Chardonnay became more popular, pushing Riesling aside. Thanks to passionate producers like Grosset, Jim Barry and Howard Park as well as support from larger wineries, Riesling has made a strong comeback and is now one of Australia's most important white grapes.

CHARDONNAY: SUNSHINE IN BOTTLE

Chardonnay's origins in Australia date back to the 1820s, but it wasn't until the late 1960s that it gained serious attention. In 1969, the Chardonnay vines at Craigmoor in Mudgee were recognized as some of the best European clones. Murray Tyrrell, working with winemaker Pieter van Gent, helped establish Chardonnay as a stand-alone varietal in the Hunter Valley. In 1972, David Wynn planted the first cool-climate Chardonnay in Eden Valley, and by 1979, Brian Croser identified Adelaide Hills as an ideal region for the grape—shaping a more terroir-focused approach.

The 1980s saw a boom in rich, oaky Chardonnays, which led to backlash and the “Anything But Chardonnay” (ABC) movement. By the 2000s, winemakers shifted to more refined styles that expressed the grape's true character and origin.

Globally, Chardonnay has been cultivated since the 12th century, with Burgundy considered its birthplace. The grape's versatility is seen in styles ranging from crisp and unoaked to richly oaked and full-bodied. California is often all seen as another new world mecca for chardonnay.

The international journey of Chardonnay, the most widely planted white grape globally, is much older than Australian wines. The earliest documented mention of the grape goes back to the 12th century. There are multiple expressions of Chardonnay ranging from unoaked and vibrantly crisp, to subtle oak and easily approachable, to rich oak and deep concentration, that showcases the versatility Burgundy has to offer with the same varietal. Even with Burgundy considered the birthplace of the grape, there has been a considerable amount of work done across the world to showcase regional expressions. It was in 1976 during the judgement of Paris, that Chateau Montelena 1973 brought the limelight on new world Chardonnay. We however, showcase some of the oldest and most celebrated Chardonnay expressions from Burgundy and the rest of the world to showcase the adaptability of the varietal.

SKIN-CONTACT WINES

These wines are a perfect example of old traditions making a comeback. Skin-contact wines have gained popularity with the rise of organic and biodynamic practices, driven by climate change awareness. Winemaking dates back 8,000 years to Georgia, where grape colour mattered less than flavour and alcohol. Today, countries like Georgia and Armenia lead the revival of traditional methods using skin contact and clay vessels (qvevri). Regions like Jura in France, Sicily, and even California have embraced and evolved the style.

Australia, known for innovation, has also embraced this movement. Pioneering winemakers like Vanya Cullen and Kathleen Quealy have helped redefine how white grape varieties can be expressed through skin-contact winemaking.

OXIDATIVE WINES

Ancient winemaking often embraced oxygen, allowing wines to develop slowly with air exposure. Modern methods, however, use technology like stainless steel tanks and inert gases to keep wine from contacting oxygen. Lately, oxidative wines are making a comeback, driven by a global interest in artisanal and traditional styles — and partly by the renewed love for sherry. From Jura to South Australia, winemakers are revisiting these unique styles. Our selection highlights some of the best examples, known for their character, cult following, and perfect pairing with food.

ROSÉ WINES: VIN DE SOIF OR GASTRONOMIC WINE?

Some of the earliest wines were Rosés—light drinks made by mixing red and white grapes or diluting red wines. In ancient Greece, watering down wine was seen as polite. Rosé gained popularity again in the late 20th century, especially in Provence, where it became a refreshing drink for tourists. While it wasn't always taken seriously, the last two decades have seen Rosé evolve into a respected style. Here, we present some of Australia's best alongside classic European examples.

RED WINES

Red wines were among the first made in Australia. From bold Cabernet-Shiraz blends to elegant Pinot Noirs, there's something for every palate. The Busby collection introduced key grapes like Shiraz, Grenache, and Cabernet Sauvignon to Australia. Since then, both single varietals and regional blends have flourished, reflecting the land and winemaking heritage. Our red wine selection takes you from global classics to local favourites.

LIGHT AND FRUITY ALTERNATIVE VARIETALS

When we think of Australian reds, Shiraz often comes to mind first. But there's much more to discover. Winemakers are exploring cool-climate, lighter reds and alternative varieties suited to Mediterranean and Continental climates. Varietals like Pinot Meunier, Gamay, and Sangiovese are now being made with the same care and quality as their classic counterparts from around the world.

GENTLE GAMAY

Gamay is a fresh, light, and fruity wine that's easy to enjoy and appeals to many tastes—perfect for the new generation of wine lovers. It first appeared in Australia in the 1970s, with plantings in the Hunter Valley by Len Evans in 1976. Since then, it has gained popularity in cool climate regions like Adelaide Hills, Geelong, and Beechworth. Once under the radar, Gamay is now making waves.

In France, Beaujolais has become a hub for natural winemaking, with a growing focus on showcasing terroir through Cru Beaujolais wines like Morgon, Fleurie, and Moulin-à-Vent, rather than just the simpler Beaujolais Nouveau.

The home of Beaujolais Nouveau has often been looked at as after thought of Burgundy but the illustrious history of the region speaks of a story otherwise. Today Beaujolais is the hotspot for natural winemaking and there is a serious effort towards showcasing true to terroir styles of Gamay. There is a modern renaissance underway that is focussing more on cru Beaujolais than Nouveau, with an amazing diversity of different Cru, as Morgon, Fleurie or Moulin a vent.

PINOT NOIR: THE DIFFICULT DARLING

Pinot Noir is a beloved grape in Australia, though its history here is relatively short. While first brought over in the 1830s, it wasn't until the 1920s that Maurice O'Shea in the Hunter Valley began producing it seriously. Later, producers like Yarra Yering, Tyrrell's, Stephen George, Mark Whisson, Lindsay Barratt, and Best's in Great Western helped the grape gain traction, especially in South Australia. Today, regions like Tasmania, Yarra Valley, Geelong, and Mornington Peninsula are known globally for their distinct, terroir-driven Pinot Noirs.

New Zealand

Even though Sauvignon Blanc is the most famous grape in New Zealand, it is Pinot Noir that has seen the most substantial growth in the last few decades. With regions like Central Otago and Wairarapa having a history of over 150 years of having documented production of the grape, it is in the last two decades where the planting has seen over 600% growth in some parts.

The King of Burgundy

Pinot Noir's roots go deep in Burgundy, France, where Cistercian monks in the Middle Ages cultivated it with devotion, believing that hard work in the vineyard brought them closer to God. Despite the region being off major trade routes, they focused on quality, laying the foundation for the concept of terroir. The grape has been documented there since around 1000 AD. Even Pope Urban V once refused to leave Burgundy, famously saying, "You can't get wine like this in Italy." We've listed our Burgundy selections from north to south, showcasing different Climats and styles.

MEDIUM BODY: JUICY AND SPICY

Throughout the 1900s, adventurous winemakers in Australia explored a wide range of grape varieties. For most of the century, the industry remained focused on classic French grapes and fortified wines. However, by the late 1980s, a shift began. Driven by a desire to create wines with their own identity, winemakers started moving away from traditional bold reds and light Pinot-style wines, giving rise to a new generation of food-friendly, expressive wines.

There is a strong belief that the wine in any region evolved around the cuisines of the region. Working wine styles that are not exuberant in body or mouthfeel but beaming with flavour and texture has been testament to this. We look at some regional expressions of some native varietals that showcase true gastronomic styles of reds that have gamayness, over-extracted fruit and expressions of earth that is extremely terroir driven.

THE NOBLE NEBBIOLo

Nebbiolo is like a magician—you never quite know what to expect. It's a complex and surprising grape that doesn't have a long history in Australia. First planted in the warmer Mudgee region by Carlo Corino in the 1980s, it found its real home in Australia's cooler climates. Sun-loving yet delicate, Nebbiolo gained traction thanks to pioneers like Pizzini in King Valley and SC Pannell in the Adelaide Hills. As Australian tastes shifted toward cool-climate wines, Nebbiolo began to shine.

A JOURNEY TO ITALY

Piedmont

The name Nebbiolo comes from “Nebbia,” the Italian word for fog—fitting for its native Piedmont, where autumn fogs blanket the vineyards at harvest time. This grape is behind the famous wines of Barolo and Barbaresco, two regions with distinct styles that have captured the hearts of wine lovers worldwide. Though it makes up only 8% of Piedmont’s grape plantings, Nebbiolo is highly respected for its depth and character.

GRENACHE: THE PHOENIX HAS RISEN

Grenache was one of the 363 grape varieties brought to Australia in the Busby collection. It adapted well and thrived in the Mediterranean climate of McLaren Vale, South Australia. Originally, it was mainly used for fortified and bulk wines and rarely mentioned on labels.

In the late 1980s, winemakers like Charlie Melton helped revive interest by showcasing Grenache's potential, especially in Rhône-style blends with Mourvèdre (Mataro) and Shiraz—creating the now-famous GSM blend. Thanks to this renewed appreciation, some of the world's oldest Grenache vines are still thriving in South Australia today

GSM: GRENACHE SHIRAZ MATARO, THE NEW CLASSIC FROM THE SOUTHERN RHÔNE

In Australia, especially in Barossa Valley and McLaren Vale, GSM blends are fuller, richer, and fruitier. Grenache is juicy, Shiraz adds bold spice, and Mourvèdre (also called Mataro) gives earthy flavour. These wines are often smoother and easier to drink.

The Rhône Valley in France is where the GSM blend (Grenache, Syrah, Mourvèdre) began. These wines are elegant, earthy, and balanced. Grenache gives red fruit, Syrah adds spice and body, and Mourvèdre brings depth. They're usually lower in alcohol and show a clear connection to the land

Once the most widely planted varietal, Grenache is claimed by both Spain and Italy by the island of Sardinia; but its exact origins are uncertain. It is said to have first been cultivated in the 14th century and then gradually spread outwards from the province of Aragon across to Northern Spain and Southern France. Its planting in south of Rhône is what set the stage for Grenache globally. For some time in 17th century, Burgundians were guilty of blending Grenache from the neighbouring Rhône region to improve the flavour of their Pinot Noir. Of course, at the time adding wine from different regions wasn't illegal.

SHIRAZ: AN AUSTRALIAN LEGEND

Shiraz has been part of Australia's wine story since the early 1800s, when vine cuttings—some from the Rhône Valley—were brought to New South Wales and spread to regions like Hunter Valley, Barossa, McLaren Vale, Nagambie Lakes, and Great Southern. Some of the vines planted back then still produce grapes today, making them the oldest continuously producing Shiraz vines in the world.

In the 1830s, Christian Auricht founded Barossa's first trading village, Langmeil, where the famous 'Freedom' vineyard was planted in 1843. In the 1860s, Tahbilk established vineyards in Nagambie Lakes, and Henry Best planted Shiraz in Great Western in 1867—both still producing top wines. Visionaries like Johann and Cyril Henschke pioneered single vineyard, single varietal Shiraz in the cooler Eden Valley, while Max Schubert put Australian Shiraz on the world map with Penfolds Grange.

In the 2000s, Australia gained global recognition for both its bold warm-climate Shiraz and its refined cool-climate Syrah, highlighting regional character and varietal quality. Shiraz remains a symbol of Australia's wine heritage and evolution.

The Living Icons of McLaren Vale

Earlier this year, a group of renowned winemakers joined forces to celebrate McLaren Vale's legacy as home to some of Australia's oldest producing vineyards. Informally called the 'Club 1800s,' this collaboration includes five iconic producers—Richard Hamilton, d'Arenberg, Ox Hardy, Kay Brothers, and Paxton—each with exclusive access to the only vineyards in McLaren Vale still yielding fruit from vines planted in the 19th century. We're honoured to present wines from all five, showcasing the deep heritage and exceptional quality of these historic sites.

Henschke, with over 150 years of winemaking, has a deep commitment to sustainable viticulture and organic farming. Their respect for the land—past, present, and future—has made them a source of inspiration for many young growers and winemakers. ### Syrah: The grape that loves a view

Syrah, also known as Shiraz in Australia, is an ancient grape variety believed to have originated in the Rhône Valley of France. It has been grown there for centuries, especially in regions like Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Syrah now thrives in both cool and warm climates worldwide, showcasing a wide range of styles from elegant and spicy to rich and powerful.

CABERNET SHIRAZ: THE QUINTESSENTIAL AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTION

Cabernet Shiraz has a rich and often debated history in Australia. While blending these two grapes was common in the 19th century under the name "Claret," it was Max Schubert's 1962 Bin 60A that truly put the blend on the world stage. Today, leading producers like Yalumba, Penfolds, and Rockford continue to honour this legacy with bold, full-bodied wines that showcase the power of this iconic pairing.

International blends with Syrah

Syrah has a long history of being blended with Cabernet in Bordeaux, dating back to the 16th century. This practice largely ended with the introduction of the appellation system, which set strict rules on permitted grape varieties. However, some traditional producers in regions like Provence still craft these classic blends. Additionally, in the South of France, Syrah is commonly blended with other varieties in well-established regional styles.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON, FRANC AND BLENDS

Home to some of the oldest Cabernet vineyards in the world, Australia has seen a considerable growth in demand of this grape. Penfolds Block 42 Kalimna vineyard planted in 1888 is the oldest still fruiting vineyard of Cabernet Sauvignon. ### Mount Mary Quintet

Mount Mary commands a mythical status among collectors. Mount Mary's Quintet style has evolved over the decades reflecting the age of the vines, the transparency of the vineyard site and refinements in winemaking techniques. It is a new genre of a cool climate cabernet with a medium body and understated power. Counterintuitive and alternative.

BORDEAUX: THE PAST, THE PRESENT AND THE FUTURE

Bordeaux's winemaking history dates back to ancient Roman times, around the 1st century AD. Its rise to fame began with the 12th-century marriage of Eleanor of Aquitaine to England's future king, Henry Plantagenet—putting Bordeaux wine, or "Claret," on the English map. Over the centuries, Bordeaux evolved through Dutch innovations in the 16th century, the 1855 classification system, and challenges like the Phylloxera outbreak. A major turning point came with critic Robert Parker's praise for the 1982 vintage, boosting global attention and reshaping the market. Today, Bordeaux blends tradition with modern technology, and its influence remains so strong that the success of its futures campaign can impact wine pricing worldwide.

DESSERT WINES

All dessert wines are 375ml bottles and the ones by glass are 60 ml, unless otherwise indicated

Australia's vibrant wine history is deeply rooted in its early production of fortified and dessert wines. These styles laid the foundation for the industry and remain a proud part of its legacy. From refined Riesling and Sémillon dessert wines to smooth Topaque, spiced Tawny, and rich, toffee-toned Muscat, Australian sweet and fortified wines offer a diverse and indulgent range of expressions.

For centuries, a huge variety of sweet wines has been produced all over the world. From the high-priced Botrytis-affected wines of Bordeaux and the Loire Valley, to the stately Tokajis of Hungary and the late-harvested ice-wines of Germany, sweet wines have always had a place in the hearts of wine and food lovers.

FORTIFIED WINES

Our standard pour of fortified wines is 60 ml unless otherwise indicated

A timeless style where tradition, intensity, and craftsmanship meet. These wines are fortified with grape spirit, giving them higher alcohol and remarkable ageing potential. Perfect for after dinner or quiet reflection, fortified wines offer a broad spectrum of flavours and textures.

From the luscious, fruit-driven depth of Port to the savoury, nutty elegance of Sherry, the tangy complexity of Madeira, fortified wines span a world of expression. Closer to home, Australia proudly offers some of the finest examples, with the silky sweetness of Topaque, the rich spice of Tawny, and the toffee-laced power of Muscat—all bearing the mark of our winemaking heritage.

We're proud to offer a taste of history. In 1878, Benno Seppelt began what would become the world's longest running collection of vintage fortified wines. Each year, Seppeltsfield releases a small amount of its 100-year-old Para Vintage Tawny. The 1924 vintage is rare and full of character — rich and intense with notes of leather, cocoa, and tobacco, yet surprisingly fresh and balanced. Its long, lingering finish is a testament to its quality. We're honoured to pour this for you.

WATER

A Rock and Hard Place

Harvested from a naturally flowing spring surrounded by pristine bushland on Mount Lofty in the Adelaide Hills. In a journey that takes thousands of years, the water carves its way through the layers of ancient sandstone, which acts as a natural filter resulting in this beautiful product. The water is bottled as nature intended it to be: crisp, clear and refreshing.

SAKE

NV Heiwa Shuzo ‘Tsuru-Ume Yuzushu’, Wakayama	14	26	50
Made with equal quantities of one-year-old Junmai sake and fresh Yuzu juice blended, this expression of Yuzushu has the highest proportion of blend among all Yuzushus produced elsewhere. Can be broadly considered as the Japanese equivalent of Limoncello. The fruit here is juiced with all of its peels ensuring sweet, sour and bitter flavours of the fruit are retained.
2019 Kidoizumi Shuzo ‘Hakugyokuko’, Chiba	20	38	76
The hot Yamahai fermentation, gives this sake a greater body and depth of flavours. There are ripe fruit followed with complex spiciness along a lingering acidity and robust dryness.
2020 Koueigiku Shuzo ‘Anastasia Green’, Saga	19	36	72
Koueigiku Shuzo is a young breery set up in 2019. It is one of the first new breweries to be set up in Japan in over two decades. The Anastasia Green is a blend of three locally grown rice strains combine to produce a deliciously light and aromatic sake with a fruity palate.
2019 Uehara Shuzo ‘Soma no Tengu’, Shiga	20	38	76
This is an Usunigori sake, a slightly cloudy sake that has the very finest part of sediments from fermentation retained and eventually added at the time of bottling. This technic gives the sake a nice, rich texture and a flavourful ‘ricey-ness’ along with a fine acidic lift on the finish.
2021 Chikuma Nishiki ‘Kizan Sanban’, Nagano	22	42	80
An unpasteurized and undiluted expression of a Ginjo sake, this is a sake that has a little lower alcohol as compared to other Ginjo sakes on account of finishing the fermentation a little early and retaining some sugars. The residual sugar in the Kizan Sanban combined with this refreshing acidity creates a smooth rounded palate with flavours of apple and aniseed.
2020 Uehara Shuzo ‘Ferosen Kameno-o’, Shiga	20	38	76
Kameno-o is an ancient table rice variety which produces more robust and deeply flavoured Sake that have a good potential for ageing. The ‘Furosen Kameno-o’ is Junmai Ginjo with the rice polished down to 55%. Balanced with ripe fruit and a savoury backbone.
