PHILOSOPHY

“Including, Contemporary, Romantic Gastronomy”.

The words are Daniel Högländer & Niclas Jönssons, the chefs behind the restaurant at Hotel Villa Dagmar, and it has become the DNA of all our restaurants.

I've been working with these great chefs for 6 years by now and I've become a part of this DNA.

The wine list you're holding in your hand is a huge part of me, and therefore also all of the including, contemporary and romantic gastronomy.

In many ways, the fantastic world of grapes and wine reflects the same things.

It is Contemporary, constantly changing and constantly being used in new creative ways to pair food, occasion and now even music or art.

It is definitely Romantic, the wine world in itself and the different moments in our lives we choose to complete with a bottle of wine.

Including? Well in my opinion, that's something we choose. We choose to include, and I have chosen to do so, so if you ask me? Yes! It is including!

Does that mean I won't be excluding anything? Of course not.

I just don't believe in putting wine in different pockets, a great wine is a great wine.

The only thing that will be excluded from this list is wine of poor quality, which I understand is a personal judgement.

So what is a great wine to me then?

A great wine to me is a wine that has a clear sense of place, terroir, and a capacity to age and develop for at least ten years.

That wine can be of origin from either Bordeaux in France, Salta in Argentina, Valais in Switzerland or Santorini in Greece.

It can be made in a modern style of Rioja or Piedmont as well as a super traditional one.

It can of course be made with a lot, or no sulphites, I really don't care, as long as the wine in my, and in the end your glass is a wine of great quality.

I call it Including, Contemporary, Romantic Wine List

Cheers,

Rasmus Klintberg, Head Sommelier

STAFF PICKS

WHITES:

2008 Il San Lorenzo Bianco, Fattoria San Lorenzo, Marche, Italy 1600

"I don't think I've ever tried something similar. It's hard to compare this to any other wine or style.

It's 14,5% alcohol and spent 140 months on it's lees, 140 MONTHS, that's almost 12 years...

Incredible concentration, loads of complexity and still wonderful balance, this is just a majestic wine.

You like powerful white wine? Go for this Verdicchio and you're in for a treat"

-Rasmus Klintberg

2013 Sancerre "Les Culs de Beaujeu", Francois Cotat, Loire, France 1600

"I am probably not alone in holding Francois Cotat in very high esteem. A fantastic showing of Sancerre from Chavignol! Crisp and elegant, with supreme focus, but deep, complex and generous at the same time. A very serious wine that is still youthful, and just now coming into it's own."

-Amadeus Simonsson

REDS:

2011 Les Laquets, Domaine Cosse Maisonneuve, Cahors, France 1000

"When you think of the grape Malbec, it's probably Argentina that pops up in your head.

Argentina picked up Malbec ages ago and made the grape theirs, but pre-argentinean years this grape belonged to France. You'll still find it here and especially in the Cahors region.

2011 Les Laquets has find that wonderful balance of dark and red fruit, a lovely freshness and the perfect maturity with softened tannins and just great balance"

-Rasmus Klintberg

2011 Côte Rôtie "Les Grandes Places", Clusel Roch, Rhône, France 1850

"What an excellent showcase of the Syrah varietal this wine is! It is the signature cuvée of a renowned producer, among the first producers to make the switch over to organic farming in Côte-Rôtie. The grapes are from vines that are 80 years old, and it shows in the complexity of the wine. Just enough of oak and structure to support the fantastic perfume of Syrah at it's best behaviour. For me, excellent venerable age, this wine drinks really well right now."

-Amadeus Simonsson
