

WINE AT YONDER

We would like to give you a warm welcome to Yonder!

The concept of our wine menu is actually quite simple!
We try to find as much wine that we, ourselves would like to drink, and if we find it, we will serve it to you!

One could argue that the menu is always a work in progress as we're always looking for more quality wine and new wine makers to work with.

With that said... why don't you have a look on the next pages and see if you could find something that suits you.

And of course, feel free to ask us if there is any questions.

CHAMPAGNE TAITTINGER

Reims

Thibaud IV was a king, lord, manager, singer, conqueror and explorer all rolled into one. Captivated by a courtly love for Blanche de Castille, the future mother of Saint-Louis, he left for the crusades in 1239. He brought back two treasures from the Orient, the like of which had never been seen before in the Christian world - the Damask rose and an example of a new grape variety, now known to be the ancestor of the Chardonnay grape. The writing of the Taittinger legend begins here...

In 1899, Louis-Eugène Pannier began the story of Champagne Pannier in Dizy, just outside Epernay. With time and excellent workmanship, the brand earned its reputation and began a new chapter of its history full of promise, moving to Château-Thierry, in the Marne Valley vineyards, in 1937. The House benefits from magnificent medieval stone quarries, which constitute the cellars, a real setting for the aging of our cuvées. These cellars, dug from the 12th century, were used to build the city of Château-Thierry.

In the deep, cool cellar they only do to the wines what is absolutely essential for their stabilization and clarification. There, time is the most important winemaking tool. All the wines from our their vineyards mature for between six months and six years in their cellars, depending on how much time each requires for its great beauty to unfold.

FAMILLE PERRIN

Pierre Perrin has a heavy charge to bear. Since 1996 he has been responsible for the vineyards and winemaking at Château de Beaucastel, one of Châteauneuf-du-Pape's – and the world's – greatest wines. He's the latest in a line of family vintners that have set the bar of achievement high.

'It's not easy when you're young as you want to shake things up, but at Beaucastel there's a respect for tradition and what's been done before that has to be preserved while looking for a means to progress,' confides Pierre Perrin

They exemplified humility, respect, as well as ambition. These are the values that still define the philosophy of La Spinetta.

In due course their children Carlo, Bruno, Giorgio, and Giovanna took over the winery reins. They worked to implement the teachings of their parents. They were taught to have great respect for the territory, for the indigenous vines and for the Piedmontese land. In 1977 the children, with the support of their parents, began the first production of their Moscatos, Bricco Quaglia and Biancospino. These would be some of the first single-cru Moscato to be produced in Italy.

Giuseppe (Pepito) Castiglioni – an industrial entrepreneur and lifelong wine lover – bought a single hectare of vineyard on a Tuscan hillside and set about creating an estate that would soon span the breadth of the region. He dreamed of producing elegant, rich wines, made not only from native Sangiovese grapes, but also from those of his beloved Bordeaux and Burgundy... Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Chardonnay, and Pinot Blanc, to name a few.

Today, that single hectare in Tuscany is just a small part of the more than 100 hectares of the Querciabella vineyards. And throughout these vibrant vineyards – flanked in the Chianti Classico region by oak forests and rolling hills, and in Maremma by the rough beauty of an unspoilt Tuscan coastline – all of the grape varieties Pepito dreamed of now thrive in the rich, biodynamic soil that has become the single most important ingredient in Querciabella’s award-winning recipes.
