Featured Producer – Clos Bellane, Rhone

certified Organic

High up in the limestone hills of Valréas, in the northern part of the southern Rhone, winemaker Stéphane Vedeau is producing some of the most elegant and refined reds we've ever tasted from this region. From Cotes du Rhone to the Chateauneuf, his wines display a freshness not often found around here. The whites are a revelation – rich, complex yet beautifully balanced with that same freshness and finesse.

Featured producer – Gaja, Barbaresco.

This is probably the most hallowed estate in all of Italy, Piedmont's answer to DRC, and with good reason. Angelo Gaja's wines from Barbaresco and, latterly, Barolo, have been thrilling wine lovers for over four decades. Their single vineyard Barbarescos are the benchmark, not just for Barbaresco, but for the Nebbiolo variety itself. These are wines for the long haul – showing their promise after five years, but with the capacity to age for decades more. Not a whole lot else to say really, other than they thoroughly deserve their reputation as one of the greatest wine estates on the planet.

Gaja Barbaresco	2017	Piedmont	495
The flagship wine, produced from grapes sourced from 14 vineyards. Intense notes of rose, liquorice, red and black fruit along with aromas of strawberry and sour black cherry. Fine-grained tannins balance the acidity and lead to a wine with a considerable intensity on the palate.
Gaja Barolo 'Sperss'	2017	Piedmont	695
The Sperss vineyard is in Serralunga d'Alba, at the very heart of Barolo. Delicate nose of red berry, blood orange, anise and black summer truffle. The wine powerful yet lifted, with very fine tannins and a very long finish.
Gaja Barbaresco 'Sori San Lorenzo'	2017	Piedmont	850
One of the first single vineyard Nebbiolo's in Piedmont. Aromas of juniper, star anise, strawberry, black pepper and saffron. Structured and vibrant, layers of fruit, herbs and spice with refined tannins and minerality, impeccably balanced.
Gaja Ca' Marcanda 'Magari'	2018	Tuscany	180
From Gaja's Tuscan estate, this is a Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon & Petit Verdot blend. Herbal, blackcurrant leaf and tobacco on the nose, with rich cherry and plum on the palate. Supple and beautifully balanced.

Featured producer – Brovia, Barolo, Piedmont

The Brovia estate was established in 1863 by Giacinto Brovia in the village of Castiglione Falletto, in the heart of the Barolo district, and has been family run ever since. With vineyard holding in some of the most enviable sites in all of Piedmont, Brovia's wines are true reflections of the land. Traditionally made and organically produced, these are wines of structure, fragrance & finesse.
