

SALTA

1700-3111M ASL 3605 Hectares

Argentina's northernmost region features extreme wine making with some of the highest vineyards in the world. The wines show remarkable influence of terroir strongly marked by altitude and great varietal character.

MENDOZA

650-2000m ASL 149228 Hectares

The largest and most famous of Argentina's regions is located at the foothills of the Andes. Eastern regions include Maipú with rich and ripe styles, Luján de Cuyo with deep soil producing the most premium wines in the country, Perdriel with rocky terroir and Lunlunta with ancient vines and leafy soil. To the west, Vistalba and las Compuertas with juicy and intense wines and Uco Valley with a cooler climate producing spicy, floral and elegant wines.

PATAGONIA

250-670m ASL 3638 Hectares

This area sees harsh winters and cool summers as well as vineyards ranging from 250-670 meters above sea level, conditions ideal for elegant, pure, textured wines. The wines have a wonderful balance of acidity and purity.
