Champagne... A wine region, not a wine style

North of Paris, Champagne is one of the world's coldest wine regions; with a long and fascinating history of sparkling (and still) wine production. While the big multinational owned brands are the most well known, the best Champagne, like any wine, is often found by opening your mind and digging a little deeper.

Riesling

Why is riesling the world's greatest grape? Not just because it tastes delicious; it's diversity that makes riesling the Holy Grail for wine geeks. Riesling comes in so many styles, from steely, citrusy and bone dry (Clare Valley) to intensely sweet and luscious (Troockenbeereauslese from Germany). Riesling does a damn fine job of showing off terroir and often over-delivers compared to chardonnay too.

Burgundy / Bourgogne

The spiritual home of pinot and chardonnay (yes, there are some other varieties too). Burgundy can be intimidating to the novice and wine geek alike, but it's only as complicated as you want it to be. Terroir is what makes Burgundy exciting - the idea that the place the grapes are grown has as much, or more, influence than the winemaker.
